column of yours. I believe you do all that every year. There is so much wisdom here.

Hendersville, NC

Dear N.C.: Thank you for sending the column which originally appeared Aug. 4, 1997. It's one of my favorites.

When I was 7, I've read your column since I was 7 years old. Now I have a daughter who is reading about other people's problems has made me realize how small mine are.

You guided me through a difficult childhood and adolescence. I could pick up the paper every day and learn how other people's problems that were similar to mine.

And I know I wasn't alone. I also learned from you that most problems aren't so serious that you can't have a sense of humor about them.

Many of your columns are so good they should be read over and over. I have gone to the library to find the columns you wrote before I was born. I didn't want to miss anything. You have been a strong positive influence in my life, and I want to say thanks by sending you this essay I hope you will print.

Spend time with your children. It's the best investment you will ever make. Don't be afraid to try something you think you can't do. Nothing ventured, nothing gained!

Write to Jan White

Dear Jan White,

I am a junior high school student. One of my problems is: When I go to a party, I never feel comfortable. I don't like myself there because I can't find anything to talk about with people. I don't think I'm a good conversationalist, so I don't have many close friends.

The other problem is: I can't get good grades in math even though I study very hard. My mother is worried about me, so she found a math teacher for me after school. But things are not getting better. What should I do?

A worried student

You may never get on their dance.

Be sure judgment really is known all the facts. Even then, keep your mouth shut if no useful purpose is served by adding your two cents' worth.

Be grateful for your good health and the health of those you love. Be aware that with it, good health, money and success is an little.

If you are rich, you are rich and you are happy. If you are not happy with other, how can money help?

If you are having a rotten day, don't take it too close around you. Simply say to yourself, "Today is a rotten day. Tomorrow will be better." That attitude will improve your disposition as well as your creative system.

Spend time with your children. It's the best investment you will ever make.

Don't be afraid to try something you think you can't do. Nothing ventured, nothing gained!

There's no such thing as the perfect man or woman. Look for the best overall package of kindness, consideration, and intelligent intelligence. Otherwise, you will spend your life alone.

Hemingway is one of the greatest American writers. He was born in Illinois in 1899 and showed great writing talent when he was young. He worked as a reporter and a driver. Then he decided to become a writer and started to write some famous novels. He lived a busy life and took trips to many places. By visiting different places he got new experiences and wrote about them in his novels.

The Old Man and the Sea is one of Hemingway's greatest novels. The story is about an old man who goes on the sea for 84 days without catching any fish. But he keeps working hard and catches a big fish on the 85th day. This book not only makes Hemingway world-famous, but also makes people remember him long after he died in 1961.
